LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMAHA BEE.

Table with columns for County, Population, and other statistics. Includes Adams, Antelope, Buffalo, Blaine, Boone, etc.

In the continuous struggle for figures to prove which is the third city in the state the school population of a number of the cities will not be passed by. It will be remembered that this population is by the school districts of the city which sometimes extend beyond the city limits, therefore the record is not an infallible test. The school population of the following places is returned as follows: Nebraska City 2,113, Hastings 2,063, Grand Island 2,025, Plattsmouth 1,922, Kearney 1,877, Fremont 1,836. The figures for the school district of the city of Beatrice are not complete, but the record for that school population of that place is not recorded.

HE WANTS HELP.

Wm. A. Gwyer, of Omaha, has filed a complaint against the B. & M. with the state board of transportation. Mr. Gwyer recites that he is the owner of extensive stone quarries on the north bank of the Platte river from the town of La Platte, in Sarpy county, when the B. & M. from the Platte river to Omaha was built, and that the road, when it reached the Platte river it ran for six miles up the river on the north bank to Cedar Island, and for a time a ferry was used. After the B. & M. had completed its road, this six miles of track was taken up and the crossing road was destroyed. Mr. Gwyer says that when this line of road was in operation that a large amount of money was expended in opening and working the quarries, and that the road was built for the purpose of carrying the quarries, and that the track his quarry has been greatly injured, rendering it very expensive to ship from it. In his complaint Mr. Gwyer says of the B. & M. that "they have frequently been negligent in restoring the track, and a vast amount of annual business has been promised them, and yet they utterly refuse to do so, being either instigated by the devil or by the occult reason." Continuing, Mr. Gwyer says: "I can readily surmise that some of the officials of the B. & M. are in some other quarry, and hence their private interests override their official duty." For these reasons he asks that the board assist him in getting justice.

SOMETHING OF A LANDLORD.

Yesterday Colonel Joseph Alex Connor of Plattsmouth was in the city on route home from a visit to his property in the Stanton county. The colonel has a tract of between five and six thousand acres in that county, and has subdivided in a series of improvements this year. He has about one hundred and seventy-five teams on the land engaged in the work of breaking up 3,500 acres of the ground preparatory to planting wheat on a field of his own. He has had 800 acres prepared heretofore, which, with his new ground will give him a field of 3,300 acres. He will build houses and barns and will be made a baronet at an early day.

The board of public lands and buildings will go to Nebraska City to-morrow to pass upon and accept the new building at the Windass.

General Manager Holdrege, of the B. & M., has answered the complaint of H. J. Yensen, of Lowell, Kearney county, that was filed with the board of transportation. Mr. Holdrege says that the company will put a dike to turn the water through the bridge which will prevent any overflow of the complainant's land.

JAY GOULD IN TOWN. A special Missouri Pacific train pulled into Lincoln this morning bringing Jay Gould, S. H. Clark and other Missouri Pacific officials. The distinguished visitors put in an hour and a half of time in the vicinity of the station looking over the property, yards and grounds in a desultory way.

Little information concerning present or future movements of the Missouri Pacific to all who communicated with them was that it was simply the annual tour of the officials over the road, with no particular significance. There is a general opinion that the line between this city and the Crete line, nine miles south, will be built this season, but no definite information on that question was gleaned from the visitors.

That Tired Feeling. Athletes nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body and expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

BENCH AND BAR.

United States Court. The case of Darst against Boggs & Hill, was heard before Judge Dundy yesterday and given to the jury at noon. The case involves the title to lot 3, in block 31. The plaintiff claims the title to the lot by direct deed title from the United States, while the defendant claims a deed through the same law deeds that were quieted by a suit previously brought in the district court, the status of limitation and the maintaining of open, exclusive, absolute and adverse possession of the property for over ten years under this tax title.

James Stewart, charged with sending obscene literature through the mails, was tried before Judge Dundy yesterday afternoon. Stewart is a native of the family of persons and history of said neighbors when they lived at Cambridge, Ia. The language was most disgustingly filthy, and made out the Cambridge family a set of swine. Stewart was fined $100 and costs, because of the family dependent upon him for support. In passing sentence the court said: "If all the swine were like those boys you described you had better not wish them it through the mail. The lightest imprisonment for this crime is for one year, but you are fined $100 and costs of prosecution. Let this be a lesson to you."

The case of Kayley vs. William Groneweg was taken up. Kay was a grocer at Stanton, this state, but he failed. Kay was arrested and taken to the city. Kay obtained goods under false pretenses of the wholesale firm of Groneweg & Schoenigen, but the jury acquitted him. Kay now owes Kay $12,000 for damages in the sum of $12,000.

Charles Wheeler gives as his cause for wanting the marriage vows existing between himself and his wife Ella dissolved, that he was unable to have children, rather than a man contrary to the commandments and laws of morality. When Charles discovered that Ella was untrue to him he packed up his effects and has lived apart from her ever since.

Edw. C. Thieling wishes the bonds of matrimony existing between himself and wife Alexina annulled, as she deserted him two years ago and continues to insist on remaining away from his bed and board.

Amelia Michels was tried by her husband, Conrad, was cruel to her and hurled vile epithets at her at the same time. She deems these sufficient grounds for a divorce, which she demands together with full possession of her two children, Georgiana, aged seventeen years, and Dorothea, twelve years, and the wedding ring which she wears as a memorial to her husband.

The case of Patrick against the Omaha & North Pacific Railway company was tried on Tuesday evening and the work of trying the case was begun yesterday morning.

There were about one hundred people present in the court room when the court ordered the state to call their first witness. Among the spectators were only three women. Mrs. Scott and her daughter, the mother and sister of the deceased, did not make their appearance in the court but remained in a more secluded part of the building. Before the first witness was called, Dennis Cunningham, one of the jurors, stated to the court that he had a question to ask when he was examined for the jury, and to the statement of the fact that he was acquainted with the deceased, he was excused from service. The court then ordered the venire of ten men was ordered by the court from which to select the twelfth juror. The jury was filled at 10:40 by the swearing in of twelve men. The witness testified that he is a physician, and that he was called to the residence of the deceased on the night of the shooting. He testified that he saw the deceased lying on the floor, and that he administered to him until he died.

The witness was shown a diagram of his saloon and the rooms by which he explained to the jury the outline and arrangement of the saloon and wine rooms. "The first intention I had, when the deed was done, was to shoot the man in the wine room," he said, "when I heard the pistol shot. The first time I saw him, he was standing in the wine room door. I shot him, but I did not intend to." He stated that he had seen Ryan and Mrs. Howard in his wine room at least a dozen times, and that his friendly relations always existed between them.

Joseph Blackwell, the porter in the saloon, was called. He testified that he was in the saloon the night the shooting took place, and when he heard the pistol shot he rushed to the room. Mrs. Howard opened the door and he saw the man who shot the man who was shot. Ryan handed him a pistol that he thought was the same one who shot him.

There were no new facts developed in the cross-examination of the witness, and the court adjourned until after dinner. At the opening of court in the afternoon there was a larger crowd present than in the morning, and the witness was called. STYLES AND ECONOMY.

If you have not yet bought your Summer Suit you are the gainer. Competition and bad weather have lowered the price of the finest goods and even the most economically inclined if he knows where to buy, can dress well and not go beyond the amount he feels he can afford to spend.

We have made a deep cut in prices and you now have a chance of buying the finest Suits in our stock at one third less than early in the season. It is a genuine and severe reduction from honest prices, and every visitor will find it so. We cannot mention all the Suits that are marked down and can not enumerate all the bargains we are offering. You couldn't tell by seeing Suits advertised at so and so much whether they are cheap or not. The only way is to investigate. See the Suits in our window. Come in and examine them; they speak for themselves better than any advertisement can do.

LIGHT SUMMER CLOTHING.

Our stock of these goods is the largest ever shown, comprising a full line of Coats and Vests of Pongee Silks, Mohair, French and Domestic Flannels and Seersuckers. They are in several beautiful patterns; well made and fit elegantly. They look and will wear as good as any $5.00 garment. We also show a splendid line of Seersuckers at the same price—95c for Coat and Vest. No cheap trash, but good goods, which will keep color and are honestly made. Another big bargain in the line of Summer Clothing is the fine, genuine Mohair Coat and Vest we are offering at $2.50. You could not buy that Coat and Vest anywhere else for less than $4.00, and we doubt if you can get it for that.

Summer Neckwear is almost given away. Those of our old customers who remember the sensation we caused last year with our 25c a dozen Scarfs, will be pleased to hear that we have them again this season; larger shapes and finer patterns. To new customers we will say that they are just such Scarfs as every store sells for no less than 10c or 15c a piece. We sell you a whole dozen for 25c. Only one dozen to a customer at a time.
